Town council catching up on homework

VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

The school year is almost over, but students aren't the only people with some studying to do. The June 11 meeting provided Elk Point town council with three sizeable stacks of reading material to study, starting with Alberta Health Services' 20 pages of recommendations for cannabis regulations for municipalities, covering every aspect from business regulation to research and evaluation.

A much larger volume awaited them, with the lengthy background report and concept map for the multi-jurisdictional urban Inter-municipal Development Plan (IDP). This project started last year and involves the towns of Elk Point and St. Paul, the County of St. Paul and the Summer Village of Horseshoe Bay, with Elk Point as the managing partner. Following a round of open house consultations, "they (ISL Engineering and Land Services) are now asking for comments," CAO Ken Gwozdz told council. "They will be meeting with the four councils in August, and then there will be another round of open houses. The bylaw can hopefully be approved by the end of the year, or early in 2019." In the future, the town will need to look at area structure plans, he added.

The third stack of information was the engineering firm's final lift station condition assessment, which received immediate attention. Council approved the report, directed administration to apply for a grant opportunity under the Investing in Canada Infrastructure Program (ICIP) for upgrading the main lift station and to apply the 2018 and 2019 Federal Gas Tax grants of $80,084 per year as the town's portion of the upgrade cost.

County says 'no' to enhanced policing on long weekends

CLARE GAUVREAU
Review Staff

Wanting to avoid what at least one councillor felt was a slippery slope, County of St. Paul council denied a motion to pay for enhanced policing in the county during long weekends.

"This could lead us down the path where rural municipalities pay for policing," Coun. Darrell Younghans pointed out, while adding, "I don't think anyone would argue against more policing. The lakes have been kind of neglected."

The County of St. Paul, as a rural municipality does not pay for policing, while the Town of St. Paul is required to.

Coun. Maxine Fodness said dedicated police enforcement patrolling the lakes on long weekends would help deter issues such as quadders damaging the environment along lakeshores.

Coun. Cliff Martin said funding enhanced policing would go against the wishes of county rate-payers who, in a plebiscite last October, did not support the county paying for extra policing by hiring municipal enforcement. He felt paying for additional policing on long weekends would amount to the same thing.

Administration had brought forward the issue at a previous meeting following concerns raised by residents in some of the county's lake subdivisions, according to CAO Sheila Kitz.

Flooding

Beavers cost the county $765 in restitution to a landowner after a beaver dam blown by the county on adjacent land, flooded water across his property during spring seeding. The action negatively impacted seeding resulting in increased costs to the landowner.

Smereka elected

VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Tuesday's by-election saw 297 voters cast their ballots for a field of five candidates, with first time candidate Tim Smereka receiving over one third of the votes, 102 valid ballots.

There was a very close race for second spot, with Jason Boorse the choice of 68 voters, just ahead of Sherry Oszust with 67. Fifty voters chose Bernice Capjack, with the remaining 10 votes going to Henry Botting.

Smereka will be sworn in at the June 25 meeting of town council.

"We began seeding the property the morning of May 14 and were able to go from one end to the other. The following morning we arrived to see the water divide and this forced us to seed the piece in two sections," Roger Leroux noted in a letter to the county.

"In the future, when activities such as this occur at seeding or harvest time, I recommend, out of respect, that you communicate with the farmers that could be affected."

CAO Sheila Kitz said the county's actions of blowing the beaver dam at that time did adversely affect the landowner and his ability to seed the property. She said she felt, given the circumstances, compensation was warranted.

"Those beavers are costly," observed Coun. Dale Hedrick.

Moosehills Road

Kitz advised council $1 million has been received from the province for the upgrade to the Moose Hills Road. The project is expected to cost $2.1 million and a fall construction start is expected at this time. A motion was approved to tender the Moosehills Road project.

Ashmont truck fill

The Ashmont truck water fill station has been updated and is open and has been heavily used, Kitz told council. A significant drain on the system, however, forced a shut-down recently due to low levels in the reservoir.

"We had to shut down so that we had enough for our residents," Kitz said, explaining that Saddle Lake was filling a number of water trucks to fill their reservoir due to what she understood was an issue with the reserve's water treatment plant. As much as 1,000 cubic metres was needed by the reserve to replenish the reservoir at Saddle Lake.

Kitz explained that when the Ashmont reservoir gets low, an alarm sounds to warn of low levels and the fill station is shut down until levels in the reservoir return to normal.

"The issue we have is the volume of water we receive from the Highway 28/63 water commission is limited to the needs of the hamlets of Ashmont and Lottie Lake at this time. We have never had an issue meeting the needs of the truck fill under normal use," Kitz later explained to the Journal. "The volume required by Saddle Lake was over and above what we can supply."

Kitz said Saddle Lake was able to haul the water it needed from the Town of St. Paul.

"When you've got five or six trucks lined up hauling water, you've got a problem," Reeve Steve Upham said during the meeting, adding, however, that the water levels would recover overnight.

The truck fill was previously coin-operated. The county has updated it to allow for credit card payment at the location to pay for water, or alternatively water can be prepaid at the county office.

Club Root

Council received a quick update from Kitz regarding a club root incident in the county, informing council information had been sent to the minister's officer and the county is awaiting a response from the landowner concerned.

Kitz later told the Journal the County issued several pest notices in 2017 for fields that were identified as having club root. One of the land owners appealed the pest notice he received. He appealed the notice to the Weed/Pest Appeal Board and then, following the board's decision to uphold the notice, he subsequently appealed the notice at the provincial level. It is currently under review at the provincial level and, Kitz said, the county is now "going through a paper exercise to present our information and respond to his through ministerial staff."

Waste water

A new waste water transfer station was constructed last year in partnership with the County of Two Hills south of Lafond. Kitz advised council only one operator showed up at a meeting held to determine the volume that should be expected at the site. As a result, letters have now been sent out to waste water haulers in the area seeking information as to usage needs so rates can then be determined.

We are hoping that providing a facility near the Lac Sante area, where there is a lot of hauled waste water, will provide haulers with a more environmentally friendly way to dispose of waste water as well as reduce the travel that they currently have if they disposing of it at either Ashmont, Mallaig or Whitney Lake lagoons," Kitz told the Journal after the meeting.

The facility is not yet open as the road accessing it is under construction.

The transfer station was built with funds accessed through the Canada Small Communities Fund, with costs a three-way split between the federal, provincial and municipal governments. The project funding also included an upgrade to the Ashmont lagoon facility.

Support approved

Council approved a $5,000 sponsorship to Portage College for a "Food Preneur event", as part of the college's 50th anniversary celebration this year. The conference event will be held at the St. Paul campus later this year and will focus on small food entrepreneurs such as caterers, farmer market vendors and non-franchised restaurant owners.

A request from the St. Paul BMX & Skatepark Society for the county to provide survey services free of charge for the proposed park site was approved by council as part of its already $30,000 commitment to the project.

Council agreed to the installation of signs at six locations directing people to the Pengrowth Energy Corporation facility. Pengrowth will pay for the signs and the county will order and install them.

The Lac Bellevue Ag. Society will get a wider access built into the grounds with council's support. The group asked the county to widen the approach by about 12 feet to accommodate large equipment navigating the access during the society's July 14 Antique Car, Truck and Tractor Show.

The Elk Point Pickleball Club got a $2,000 hand up to assist with the club's funding shortfall for its new pickleball court.

The St. Paul Seed Cleaning Plant got the nod of approval from council for a $2,100 defibrillator to be kept on site at the facility.

St. Lina Seniors Dew Drop In will receive $3,340 from the county to aid the organization in replacing doors to improve energy efficiency and security.

County funds labour market study

CLARE GAUVREAU
Review Staff

A proposal by the St. Paul and District Chamber of Commerce to undertake a labour study in the area has received the support of County of St. Paul council with a commitment of $5,000, while the Town of St. Paul has yet to make a decision on a similar request.

Chamber executive director Linda Sallstrom provided County of St. Paul council with an overview of the study saying information gathered will provide partners with vital information pertaining to strengths and weaknesses of the existing labour force, who the employers are, what their needs are now and into the future and how well prepared on the labour front we are as a region going forward to support economic development.

"Who are our employers here? 2014 is when the last study was done, and a lot has changed since then. Oil and gas is not going away but we have to diversify," Sallstrom told council during a presentation June 12.

Town Council

The town will apply $105,231 of the 2018 MSI capital grant toward the upgrade, and approved the use of the $67,101 from the 2019 MSI capital grant for the project as well. Gwozdz said the upgrade would cost "just under $1 million. We've already got the pumps, which cost $105,000, plus GST." Council also approved revisions to the capital budget and five-year capital plan.

Town clean-up

Coun. Debra McQuinn had a suggestion for council, that Elk Point's schools could get more involved in the annual town clean-up next year, if classes were assigned areas and provided with gloves and garbage bags, with council cooking lunch for them. "The town would get a thorough clean-up. Lloydminster did it, and it would make the kids more responsible about not throwing away trash."

Mayor Lorne Young noted that while "schools want to be good corporate citizens," liability and the need for supervision would be issues. But, he added, "it's not a bad idea, there's no harm in asking. I have no idea what their response will be." Administration was asked to write letters to Elk Point Elementary School and F. G. Miller High School inviting them to take part in the 2019 clean-up.

Handicap parking

A request for a handicap parking space in front of Guardian Drugs was not approved, with council noting that there are already designated spaces just across the street in two directions, at the side of TD Canada Trust and at the west end of the angle parking area across 49th Avenue, by Cornerstone Co-op.

Official approval

Minister of Transportation Brian Mason's official letter of approval for up to $372,750 under the Strategic Transportation Infrastructure Program (STIP) Community Airport Program Component was received. The final grant amount will be based on the actual eligible costs when the project is completed.

MSI funding

Alberta Municipal Affairs has advised the town that Elk Point has been allocated a total of $325,978 in Municipal Sustainability Infrastructure funding, with $299,019 in capital funding and $25,959 in operating funding. The capital funding is made up of the capital component, $211,899, and the Basic Municipal Transportation Grant, $87,120. Allocations are based on population, education tax requisitions and kilometers of local road. The town also has been allocated $80,084 in Gas Tax funding, based on population.

Letter of support

The M.D. of St. Paul Foundation's request for a letter of support to have the decision to discontinued mobile blood collection services at Sunnyside Manor reversed was brought to council, who agreed that while the issue only affects St. Paul, a letter of support from the mayor's office will be sent to MLA David Hanson.

Structural fire

Regarding the town house fire, Gwozdz reported that the insurance companies have now hired adjusters and "some progress has been made, but with the number of landowners, adjusters and insurance companies, these things take time." Further discussion was deferred to the closed session at the conclusion of the meeting.

Wrong sister, wrong song

Our apologies to Tammy Young, who was inadvertently labeled as her sister Kelly in last week's STARS Golf coverage.

We also credited the 'War Sons' with the wrong first song, which was actually "Take Me Home, Country Roads", rather than "Sweet Home Alabama." Sorry!

In order to undertake the labour study, Sallstrom said the chamber is pursuing a grant through the provincial Labour Market Partnerships Program and one of the prerequisites to obtaining provincial funding is local partnerships, which is where the county comes in.

Sallstrom said the project is estimated to cost between $80,000 to $95,000 and the chamber is hoping to tentatively get it underway this fall with completion expected within nine to 12 months. However, if it becomes necessary to split the study into phases due to resource limitations, she said the study would undertake a labour market environmental scan in the first phase. A labour market strategic plan and communication plan would then be developed in the second phase.

"If we can do it all in one contract that would be fantastic," Sallstrom said, explaining to council other partnerships are also being identified and approach for support including the Town of St. Paul. "We are not asking businesses to support this (financially)."

Bob Bezpalko, executive director of Northeast Alberta Information HUB, said an up-to-date labour report will "help substantially" as the St. Paul region looks to attract future investment.

"The emerging industries are incredible. Can you support a disruptive technology with labour in this region right now," Bezpalko asked, saying that's the kind of information needed to support economic development initiatives.

"How regularly are you getting these inquiries," Coun. Darrell Younghans questioned. "Are they asking about the labour market specifically?"

Bezpalko said in order for investors to look at a "cradle to grave" analysis, a current labour market study is essential.

"This piece of the puzzle is critical. That is where we lack in having that document today."

Sallstrom also approached the Town of St. Paul council on Monday evening, requesting a contribution of $5,000. The study would include the town and county of St. Paul, Mallaig, Elk Point and Saddle Lake, she explained.

During the town's meeting, she noted the final result of the study would be something the whole community could use. The end result would be a report, added Sallstrom. And then a strategic plan could be done around that report.

Town of St. Paul council did not make a decision on the request but referred it to administration.

Here comes summer fun!

It's been a somewhat strange spring, with very hot weather, unseasonably chilly weather, very heavy downpours and very dry spells. After that, who can tell what the summer weather will be? We're sure that the job of a weather forecaster is a challenging one, and to most of us, it's incomprehensible how anyone can even begin to predict the weather months ahead of time, as those who prepare the almanacs endeavor to do. Mother Nature has been known to change her mind now and then and fool us all.

At this point, all we can do is keep our fingers crossed for a sunny and not-too-hot Canada Day.

Yes, Canada Day is sneaking up on us very fast, just 12 days from now, so get those floats ready, get the bicycles decorated, and get ready to have fun! Check out next week's issue for an update on the activities that the Canada Day Committee has planned.

But that's just the beginning of summer - two whole months to enjoy the local lakes and campgrounds, for the kids to enjoy the water spray park, to take a drive out to Fort George and Buckingham House for a trip to the past, or event to head off on a longer trip to visit relatives or see the sights! Enjoy!

Entertainers needed! No matter what your talent, we want to showcase you on the Canada Day Stage!

We are calling all singers, bands, musicians, jugglers, jokesters, magicians, dancers, performers, DJs and anyone who needs a little exposure.

We've been getting a few calls about the parade. The line up time is 8 to 9 a.m. for any floats wishing to be judged. Enter the line up on Railway Ave. from the west side of town, down by the firehall and drive towards the Eco Centre. Please DO NOT enter from the east (road by Tags).

The pancake breakfast will go on as per usual, at the library from 8 to 10:30 a.m., then head to Elk Point Realty for an ice cream cone on your way to watch the parade.

The parade starts at 11.

At 12:30 p.m. there will be opening ceremonies at the Canada Day stage, just north west of the arena. That's always where the afternoon festivities will be held.

Back are favourites like bounce house and the dunk tank. We will also have face painting and sumo wrestling suits.

Enjoy some backyard games or a cold beverage in the beer gardens.

We are hosting a community dinner with Ribs on the menu! That's right, PS Catering is BBQing delicious ribs for dinner. Complete with salad, coleslaw and angel food cake dessert.

Stick around for the dance, doors at 9 p.m. featuring Mid Life Crisis! This band rocks with a mixture of classic rock and country. You'll be dancing the night away, while the kids enjoy a free outdoor movie, 'Coco', thanks to the County of St. Paul and Elk Point FCSS. Tickets are available at the door for the dance.

And of course we'll finish up the celebration with fireworks at the arena area at dusk!

Two decades for Pioneer Circle, 50 years for Canadian Salt

HERE'S THE NEWS THAT MADE THE HEADLINES OF THE LAKELAND REVIEW AND ELK POINT REVIEW FOR THE WEEK OF JUNE 18 IN...

1988

Roseanne Wirsta showed the Grand Champion steer, Dorothea Naber the Reserve Champion steer, Renee Theriault the Grand Champion heifer and Jeff Orr the Reserve Champion heifer at Elk Point 4-H Multi Club's achievement day, with Cody Kurek and Kim Kurek winning the awards in woodworking and food projects. Canadian Salt Company marked 40 years of production at their Lindbergh works with close to 400 people in attendance for the commemorative program and subsequent tours of the operation.

1993

Elk Point Pioneer Circle marked two progressive decades, with president Lillian Palinka cutting a massive anniversary cake at the celebration of the organization that started in 1973 with 22 members, Bill Bartling as president, Lawrence Garneau as vice president and Anne Kates as secretary treasurer, with the name suggested by Florence Lindquist. Tim Havener of the Elk Point 4-H Multi Club showed the Reserve Grand Champion at the St. Paul District 4-H Show and Sale, winning the Norcen Energy Resources banner and selling his steer to Andrew Boddy of E-Can Oilfield Services for $1.42 per pound.

Canadian Salt celebrated 50 years in Lindbergh with a huge celebration and tours of the plant, office manager Tom Melnyk telling the crowd that a thick salt bed discovered while drilling for oil in 1946, along with the ample water supply from the North Saskatchewan River and the nearby railway line made the site perfect for the works built in 1948, at that time processing 125 tons of salt per day, with 9,600 KWH of electricity as a by-product - enough to operate the plant and adjacent townsite. Higher assessments and lower mill rates for residential, farmland and improved non-residential property were announced as town council set the mill rate and approved the capital budget.

Town council kept their mill rate increase under half a mill, with a slight decrease in the Alberta School Foundation Fund levy and a slight increase in assessment helping to hold the line, despite increases in the General Contingency Capital Fund and the Ambulance Service Reserves. A very proud community joined in celebrations for nine graduands that made up the Class of 2003 at Chief Napawaew Comprehensive School, with Chief Raymond Quinney telling the grads, "You give strength to our nation" and encouraging them to seek further education in professions and trades needed in the area.

2008

Stoney Lake celebrated Farmers' Day with their second annual picnic which included horse drawn wagon rides, some of the youngsters having the opportunity to ride in a tiny buggy behind a team of miniature horses, as well as enjoying a barbecue lunch, entertainment and a silent auction. F. G. Miller High School acknowledged their top Crusader athletes, with Tyson Proskiwi, Taylor Jenner, Brendan Bishop and Katie Maennchen winning the Athlete of the Year awards and Tyson, along with Bailey Youngmans, Caitlin Brooks and Stephan John winning the Sportsmanship awards.

2013

Tia Lowry, a Grade 12 student at F. G. Miller High School, accepted five scholarships and awards at the school's Awards Day, including the Elmer Bjornstad Scholarship, the John Braga Epitomic Student Award, the Science and Math Scholarship, the Scholarship for Academic Excellence and the Dr. K. C. Miller Best All Around Student Award. A public hearing into rezoning four parcels along 50 Ave. at the west side of Elk Point brought a near-capacity crowd to town council chambers, with ratepayers generally in favour of the rezoning, but half of them opposed to the location of accommodation for workers on half of that property.

Jack and Jill celebrates Class of 2018

Nine members of Jack and Jill Playschool's Class of 2018 celebrated their graduation last week at a very different venue than usual. Due to the heavy rainfall of the previous few days, the ceremony was relocated from the Klatt Ranch, where it has been held every year since 2007, to the Elk Point Christian Community Church, right next door to the classroom where they have enjoyed the past year of learning and having fun.

Teacher Tammy Klatt welcomed the students and their families, and said when the youngsters arrived last September, "They were so small, and now they've grown up. It's an honor to be your child's first teacher."

Each student was called up in turn to receive crowns and graduation pins, which the students quickly put on before lining up on the stage.

Three rounds of 'Happy Birthday' were sung for Zachary Zarowny, Lee Barstad and Paynton Skarsen, with another round to surprise Klatt herself.

Everett Hahn, Owen Bannister, Lee Barstad, Lennox St. Arnault, Stetson Reynolds, Caleigh Kinch, Jasmine Merkel, Paynton Skarsen and Zachary Zarowny were presented with diplomas, gift bags and memory books filled with pictures of the year's events and poems, including two that Klatt had earlier read to the group. A 10th grad, Jack Hammond, was unable to attend the event.

The students then entertained their families with recitations of their ABCs and counting to 10, as well as several favourite songs, including two celebrating the fact that they will be moving on to kindergarten in the fall, before wrapping up with "You Are My Sunshine."

Klatt's advice to the Class of 2018: "Don't forget how special you are, and always do your best."

COUNTY OF
ST. PAUL No. 19

HIGHLIGHTS

June 12, 2018 Council Meeting

2018 Property Tax Notices – were mailed out on May 11 and payments are due by June 30. If you did not receive your notice, contact Carolyn at 645-3301, ext. 215 to ensure that the County has your correct mailing address on file. The County Office will be open during the lunch hour from June 1st to 30th to accommodate ratepayers during property tax season.

Signage at Entrance to Subdivisions – Following requests from County residents, Council agreed to replace the subdivision signs at the entrance to the lakes and acreage subdivisions. The new signs will have the 911 rural address numbers displayed rather than the lot numbers and will correspond with the green signs that are erected at the approach of each property.

Ag Service Board – has started the roadside mowing and spraying program. The roads that will be affected by the spray program will be available on the County website. If residents do not want spraying done in front of their property, they must sign an agreement and pick up "No Spray" signs to be posted. The County's no spray policy outlines the owner's responsibility to maintain the portion of roadway between the boundary of their property and the centerline of the road allowance. The policy can be viewed on the County website.

Bylaws – Council gave administration further direction to amend the Code of Conduct Bylaw, which is a new requirement of the Municipal Government Act. The final draft of the bylaw will be presented at the July 6th Council Meeting for approval.

Council approved Bylaw 2018-09 to lend $55,000 to the St. Paul Quarterback's Club for the shortfall for their lighting project on the football field and track. The Quarterback Club will repay the County in 10 equal payments, the first payment being May 2019.

Fee Schedule Bylaw 2018-11 and Fire Protection Bylaw 2018-12 were also approved by Council. The amendments to the Fee Schedule Bylaw update the rates charged for fire calls which effected the wording in the Fire Protection Bylaw.

- $500 each – Track & Field Provincials – Regional High Schools/ FG Miller High School
- $500 – Provincial U16C Bantam Girls, St. Paul Minor Ball

Pitching development a vital key to success

Pitching can make a huge difference, not only the majors but minor ball as well. With the Lakeland League finals coming up this coming weekend, all the teams are trying to develop their pitching. During the season is the time to develop pitching, the final week-end with pitch count in effect it will be too late to see if a kid can throw straight across the plate. The team with the deepest bullpen will most likely win the league.

The Pee wee Sox have been doing just that, developing pitching, and had a great week winning over St. Paul # 2 on Thursday night 16 to 10 and then on Father's Day, they defeated St. Paul #1 by a score of 14 to 11. Almost everyone on the team has had a turn on the mound at some point during the season. On Thursday night 'the Mighty Casey' Warawa, Vanden 'Super Mario' Moroziuk, Josef 'Red' Theriault, 'Mick Jager' Fontaine and Sam 'Spiderman' Rogal all pitching an inning. This team has done very well this year.

In Sunday's game, first place was on the line when they faced the St. Paul # 1 team. Vanden 'Super Mario' Moroziuk not only pitched a pretty good inning, but he pounded a three-run in-the-park home run. Not so lucky though, on his next two at bats. He was robbed, first by the shortstop catching a hot liner and then the first baseman on another solid line drive that would have brought in runs for sure, had they made it through the infield. 'Mick Jager' Fontaine came up with some serious heat in the last two innings he pitched. Three up, three down in the fifth inning when he came in. Then in the sixth inning he struggled a bit, loaded up the bases only to save the day in the end. 'Mick Jager' also hit two triples in that game as well. 'Bazooka Joe' Cardinal with a double and a single doing his part, driving in some runs. Good luck to the Pee wee Sox this coming weekend, their finals are in St. Paul Saturday and Sunday.

The Bantam boys' finals are also in St. Paul. They lost a really close one this past week by one run against Cold Lake. The bases were loaded in the bottom of the last inning, but they just couldn't get the tying or winning run in. The Bantam Sox coaches have been doing the exact same thing, using a different pitcher every inning and developing pitching. Good luck to them as well.

The Mosquitoes lost a really close one in the final inning this past week as well, with runners on all the bases and forced play at third ended the game against Elizabeth Colony.

The Bantam girls Puma team travelled to St. Paul on Monday night, losing a rough one by double digits, but rather than dwell on it they bounced back and made a real game of it against Marwayne on Thursday night at home, losing that one too, but not until the final inning.

The Pee wee Pumas played in a B level softball tournament in Bonnyville this past weekend. We are a D town when it comes to softball. The girls made some amazing plays and put up a good fight and won the bronze medal over Beaumont 13 to 6. One of their players, pitcher Paige Skarsen, is very dedicated, she has a terrific work ethic and has been training really hard. She was picked up by Marwayne this year to play with them in C level provincials.

This coming weekend the Pee wee girls will be hosting the Lakeland League finals right here at home. Come on down to the ball park and check them out and have a hot dog or maybe even two!

And now for the K. A. Campbell quote of the week. "One of my chores was to milk cows, which meant getting up before dawn and going out to that cold dark barn. I didn't expect to make it all the way to the big leagues; I just wanted to get away from them darn cows." - Edd Roush FUN GAME - Here is the fun game we had between the two teams. Had some hot dogs and pop after the game. Great night for ball!!
